DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the position worn as intended (claim 1), the connecting section being designed and dimensioned such that it can be guided over and beyond the backrest of the seat and/or can be suspended around or over a headrest provided on the seat (claim 2), the head support element being designed such that the weight element can come to rest or hang behind the passenger (claim 3), the cushion-like elements having connecting devices which permit a releasable connection of the cushion like elements to the connecting section and/or to the weight element (claim 6); and the connecting section having a releasable connection to the head-support element and/or to the weight element (claim 8) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 8-9 "the position worn as intended" has no definite antecedent basis.

In claim 7, line 2 "the connecting section" has no definite antecedent basis.

In claim 8, line "the connecting section" has no definite antecedent basis.

In claim 9, line 2 "the effective dimensions" and in line 3 "the connecting section" have no definite antecedent basis.

Claims 2-6 are indefinite in that they depend from an indefinite base claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5-9 so far as definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Monti et al.

The cushion-like elements 47, 49 have connecting devices (51, 53, 55, 57, 59).
See Fig. 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3636

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 2 and 3, so far as definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Monti as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Camelio.

Camelio teaches a connecting section 14, which can be guided over and beyond the backrest of the seat, and a weight element 18, which supports the weight of the cushion and comes to rest behind the passenger to be old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the Monti device such that it had a connecting section and a weight element as taught to be old by Camelio thereby providing the obvious advantage of a secure connection between the head-support device and the seat.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to teach, inter alia, a weight element formed by sand which is filled into one or more chambers, as specifically claimed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Jensen, Kantor, Perron, Yin, Henkel, Chow, and Favell all teach devices similar to that of the instant invention.
